

Ready to Work, Complete Protection for MRO Workers

The success of a facility relies on its maintenance, repairs, and operations. From the structure of the building itself to the machines inside of it, MRO workers keep facilities running. They frequently encounter dust, fumes, and particulates, and often have to manoeuvre in tight spaces. They need a respirator that provides protection without sacrificing mobility or comfort. The PureFlo® 3000 PAPER provides the lightweight, head-mounted respiratory protection that keeps MRO workers safe and productive.

All-in-One Protection

The PureFlo 3000 PAPER is a total headborne protection solution – respiratory, head, eye, face, and situational awareness. It removes the need for carrying additional supplies like a hard hat, safety eyewear, and face mask. Optional hearing protection is an easy addition, if required.

Mobility & Portability

As a head-mounted respirator, the PureFlo 3000 has no belt or hoses. Without hoses, the risk of snag is reduced, allowing MRO workers to move easily within their environment. They won't need to give up their tool belts, either. As an out-of-the-box solution, workers can simply grab their PureFlo 3000 PAPER and go, without losing time putting together and breaking down equipment.

Easy to Use

The PureFlo 3000 has no need for fit testing, making it a versatile option for MRO workers. Unlike its counterparts, it easily fits over facial hair and prescription eyewear. The PAPER features a quick-change P3 filter, allowing smooth and swift transitions in high-particulate environments. The LED low battery and airflow indicators reduce the stress of knowing when to swap out those filters, as well as when to recharge the compact Lithium Ion batteries.

Superior Quality and Protection

A breakthrough in headborne comfort, mobility and durability, the PureFlo 3000 is made for keeping industrial workforces safe, while simultaneously enhancing productivity.

All-in-One Industrial Protection, On the Go

No need to carry individual PPE such as hard hat, safety eyewear, or face mask - the PureFlo® 3000 PAPR includes it all in one easy-to-use head-mounted unit, with no belt or hose, reducing the risk of snagging with equipment or machinery.

When working around welding fume and dust during maintenance work, the PureFlo 3000 provides superior protection, functionality and durability.
